The University Coat of Arms

On 15 November 1909, the Faculty recommended to the Senate that the University of Alberta adopt the Provincial Coat of Arms as its emblem, with the addition of an open book superimposed upon the cross and the motto "Lux et Lex" (Light and Law). In January 1911, the present motto, "Quaecumque vera," was substituted for the originally proposed motto. In 1950, the form of the design was changed in keeping with the graphic style of the time, and a new description of the symbol was adopted.

In the 1980s, Dr John Schlosser, Chair of the Board of Governors, became concerned that the University of Alberta was using the provincial Coat of Arms without official heraldic authority. When Sandy Mactaggart became Chancellor in 1990, he started working with the Canadian Heraldic Authority in Ottawa to design a Coat of Arms which would be heraldically correct. He emphasized the importance of retaining the characteristics of the existing Arms of the University that have meant so much to generations of alumni, Faculty, and students.

Canada's Athabaska Herald, Mr Charles Maier, advised the University on the design of its Coat of Arms so it conforms to the traditional requirements of heraldic art. Since the middle ages, Coats of Arms have been regarded as honours conferred under the Sovereign's prerogative powers. In Canada, these powers are now exercised by the Governor General, who appoints heralds to provide the necessary professional expertise.

The new design was finalized in early 1994. It was presented to the University by His Excellency the Right Honourable Ramon John Hnatyshyn, Governor General of Canada, at Convocation on 13 June 1994.

The full Coat of Arms is displayed at ceremonial occasions, such as Convocation, and is used by the Chancellor, as titular head of the University.

The symbolism of the University's Armorial Bearings (Coat of Arms) is:

Shield: a representation of the topography of Alberta rendered in the colors of the University.

At the base is a prairie wheat field symbolizing Alberta's agricultural industry. The wavy gold line above suggests the hills and rivers of Alberta and, in particular, the setting of the University campus. The top of the shield is in gold and separated from the rest of the shield by a line suggesting the Rocky Mountains. The book of learning dominates the design.

Crest: a Grand-Duc D'Amérique, or Great Horned Owl, the provincial bird and accepted symbol of knowledge.

Supporters: the Pronghorn, taken from the Provincial Coat of Arms, and the golden bear, mascot of the University. Both wear collars of the University collars, as does the owl.

Compartment (base of the Coat of Arms): a grassy mound with wild roses, the floral emblem of Alberta.

Motto: Quaecumque vera – "Whatsoever Things Are True" (Phil 4:8)

Acting President and Vice-Chancellor

Universities began as small collections of scholars who worked together to preserve and advance knowledge. Students came to study with them and, in due course, an administrative structure arose to provide system and recognition for those studies. This ancient structure is preserved at the University of Alberta, with the faculty and the students providing the core of the University's purpose: teaching and the advancement of knowledge. The faculty's task is facilitated by their colleagues in the academic staff, the Faculty Service Officers, the Administrative Professional Officers and the Librarians, and the University's dedicated support staff.

The faculty, numbering some 1,600, is responsible for creating programs of study, for teaching, and for evaluating the learning of the student body, both undergraduate and graduate. In addition, faculty members are responsible for the scholarly reputation of the University by preserving and sharing knowledge and by pursuing new ideas and knowledge through their research.

The faculty and staff congratulate you, the graduates, on the successful completion of your present studies which is recognized by the degrees to which you are admitted today. Your achievement deserves praise. We hope your present knowledge provides a sound base for an education which will continue throughout a rewarding life. We would remind you of the advice given to graduands by Honorary Degree Recipient Dr Tommy Banks: "Try to be a good person. You will be amazed how rewarding it is."

Congratulations from the Faculty and Staff!

I am pleased to join with your families, friends, the faculty and staff of the University of Alberta in congratulating you on the successful completion of your studies. You have reached this important milestone through a great deal of commitment and effort, and therefore have good reason on this special day to be proud of your accomplishments.

This convocation also has a much broader purpose. It is an opportunity for your family and friends to come together to wish you all of life's best as you meet the personal and professional challenges that lie ahead.

To everyone receiving degrees, including the Honorary Degree recipients, and on behalf of Premier Klein and my colleagues in the Government of Alberta, I wish you success and good fortune in your future endeavors.

Sincerely,

Jack W Ady, Minister of Advanced Education and Career Development

University Mace and Ceremonial Chairs

The University of Alberta Mace was designed and crafted specifically for the University as a gift from Dr Francis Phillip Galbraith, Chancellor of the University of Alberta from 1964 - 1970. It was presented by his son, Michael Galbraith, on behalf of his father on May 26, 1970.

Among its elements are: the Star of Saint Thomas Aquinas, the Patron Saint of Scholars; the Wild Rose of Alberta; the Maple Leaf; and the separate charges which make up the University's Emblem. The University motto "Quaecumque Vera" ("Whatsoever Things Are True" Phil 4:8) encircles the staff. The Mace is made of sterling silver which was rhodium plated after the insertion of the various enamelled shields which make up its elements. A special electro-plate process was used to apply 24 carat gold to other parts of the Mace.

It was intended that the Mace should be modern in appearance but with medieval origins. The preponderance of visual weight at the top of the staff and the rather complex section through the metalwork at this point are reminiscent of the use of the mace as a weapon, defensive or aggressive. The Mace is carried before the Chancellor, or Vice-Chancellor, in procession and rests on its stand in full view of the assembly during Convocation. Centuries ago the Mace was a symbol of authority over life and death. Today it represents power – but the power of knowledge and the importance of the University in the community.

The Chancellor's Chair was presented to the University of Alberta as a gift from the 1922 graduating class. It is made of solid oak with a padded leather back and seat. Above the padded leather back is carved the University motto "Quaecumque Vera" together with the class year, 1922, and the University emblem.

In 1987, the family and friends of Dr Charles Malcolm Macleod, Chair of the Board of Governors from 1950 to 1966, presented a memorial gift to the University of an oak stand for the University of Alberta Mace and two additional chairs for use by the President and the Chair of the Board of Governors at Convocation.

In the eleventh century, a new vitality quickened all aspects of the civilization of Western Europe. The creative forces thus unleashed soon found expression in new institutions, and of these the university bids fair to be the most enduring. The modern university is the lineal descendant of the university of the Middle Ages. Its purposes and organization, even much of its ceremonial, are medieval in origin.

The medieval university was originally called a studium generale, that is, a place of learning to which teachers and students from anywhere resorted. The first studia were at Salerno, Bologna, and Paris. These came into existence spontaneously and developed through the twelfth century as the needs of the time and their inner necessities dictated. In the thirteenth century these spontaneous associations crystallized into guilds or corporations endowed by Church and State with specific privileges which guaranteed the internal autonomy necessary for the vocation of study. To these corporations was increasingly applied the word universitas denoting the entire group of those responsible for the transmission of higher learning and the pursuit of knowledge.

By the beginning of the fourteenth century, two forms of university organization had appeared. At Bologna, which was primarily a higher school of canon and civil law to which came men experienced in ecclesiastical and secular administration, the control of the studium generale passed to the students; hence Bologna was a universitas scholarum. On the other hand in Paris and Oxford, whose dominant faculty was the Faculty of Arts, the studium emerged under the direction of a guild of teachers, a universitas magistrorum. Through its own officials, notably the chancellor (once symbol of external control and by now of internal autonomy), the guild of teachers developed its courses of instruction, administered its own affairs and admitted to its company only those who had met its intellectual standards. The University of Alberta stands in the tradition of Paris and Oxford.

Originally the goal of the medieval student was certification by the guild of teachers that he also was qualified to teach (the licentia docendi). With the passage of time the student's progress through the curriculum was marked by ceremonies which signified his successful attainment of a certain level (gradus or in modern language, degree) of competence. The Bachelor had completed his apprenticeship in the Faculty of Arts. The Master was now qualified to teach in that Faculty and was thus incorporated into the universitas magistrorum. The Doctor was one who, having obtained the mastership, had successfully completed the curriculum of one of the "higher" faculties (in the Middle Ages, law, medicine, and theology) and was now qualified to teach in those faculties. Inevitably the degrees of the universitas did more than admit their holders to the teaching profession. They served the wider social purpose of demonstrating their holders' fitness to serve the entire medieval community.

Today's ceremony stems from the medieval tradition. The procession of the guild of teachers, whose solemn assembly, or convocation, is the modern equivalent of the medieval magna congregatio of all faculties, is led by the Chancellor and the Chief Marshal carrying the mace, the symbol of the University's corporate authority. The academic gowns, hoods, and caps, once the sober, disciplined dress of secular clergy and teachers, declare in their various designs and colors the academic qualifications of the Faculty. The citations and presentations by the Faculty to the Chancellor attest to him and to society the degree of proficiency attained by the students of the University. There follows a visible and public act whereby the universitas magistrorum, acting through its Chancellor, confers upon the students the appropriate degree. It is the act, not a certificate, which constitutes the validity of the degree bestowed. More, the formula, "I admit you" and the placing of the students' hands within the hands of the Chancellor and his associates, bind the students in the appropriate degree to the universitas magistrorum. The students thereafter bear for all time the mark of their association with this University. They have received what the University has been and presently is. Since they bear in themselves the promise of the future, they are what the University hopes to be. For all its solemnity, convocation is a joyous occasion.

The history of academic dress reaches far back into early days of the oldest universities. A statute of 1321 required that all "Doctors, Licentiates, and Bachelors" of the University of Coimbra wear gowns. In England, in the second half of the 14th century, the statutes of certain colleges forbade "excess apparel" and prescribed the wearing of a long gown. It is still a controversial question as to whether academic dress finds its sources chiefly in ecclesiastical or in civilian dress. Gowns may have been counted necessary for warmth in the unheated buildings frequented by medieval scholars. Hoods seem to have served to cover the tonsured head until superseded for that purpose by the skull cap. This was itself displaced by a headdress more or less like one or another of those now recognized as "academic." [The mortar board, the hard, square cap commonly used as academic headdress today, evolved from the softer, more flexible "square cap" that was introduced in England in about 1490 and is named for the square board on a handle used by stone masons for holding the mixed mortar to be applied to walls.] Both Cambridge and Oxford have made academic dress a matter of university control to the extent of even its minor details and have repeatedly issued revised regulations. In Laudian days in Oxford it was prescribed that any tailor who departed from authorized design "even by a nail's breadth" in the making of any article of collegiate costume was to be punished by the vice-chancellor of the university.

Academic dress at the University of Alberta generally follows the prescription of Cambridge University in the design of the gown, and that of Oxford University in the design of the hood. The following page provides a detailed description of the academic dress at this institution.

In addition to the apparel worn by holders of degrees conferred by the University of Alberta, a collection of apparel specific to particular offices has also been developed. The President of the University wears a green gown faced with gold braid trim and lining and a green cap with a gold tassel. The Chancellor and Chancellors Emeriti wear gowns of teal blue with silver trim and black caps with silver tassels. The gowns of the senior officials bear an embroidered emblem of the University. University Governors and Senators wear stoles bearing the emblem of the University over their gowns: gold for Governors and green for Senators. The University Registrar wears a green gown with gold trim on the sleeves.

Graduates and staff of the University of Alberta who wish to purchase their own academic apparel are invited to contact: Harcourt's Limited, 26-28 Duncan Street, Toronto, ON, M5V 2B9. Order forms may be obtained by contacting the Convocation Officer in the Office of the Registrar.

Doctorate Degrees

Doctors' gowns (PhD, DMus, and EdD) conform to the Intercollegiate Code in design. They are made of black material and the velvet trim on the sleeves is Philosophy Blue for the PhD and DMus, and Education Light Blue for the EdD. Doctor's hoods conform to the Intercollegiate Code in shape, size, and color. The velvet trim distinguishes the two degrees and matches the velvet trim on the gown's sleeves. There is a narrow green piping where the gold lining joins the black material. Mortarboards are the standard black trencher shape with black tassels, which are worn forward and to the left.

Honorary Doctorates

Honorary Doctors of Laws, Letters, and Science wear a scarlet robe faced with white silk. Hoods are made in the Cambridge form of scarlet silk with a full lining of white silk. Caps are black velvet with a gold tassel.

Honorary Degree Recipients

Doris Badir served the University of Alberta as Chair of the Department of Family Studies from 1975-76 and as Dean and Professor of the Faculty of Home Economics from 1976-86. As Dean of the Faculty and as Special Assistant to the President, she took a strong leadership role at the University on women's issues and on the broader issue of equity. Professor Badir served as President of the Canadian Home Economics Association, the Vanier Institute of the Family, and the International Federation of Home Economics. Under her leadership, the International Federation of Home Economics was named by the United Nations as an official patron of the International Year of the Family (1994), for its outstanding work in preparation for the celebration.

Professor Badir received her BSc in Home Economics from the University of Manitoba, an MS Education degree from Syracuse University, New York, and an MSc Economics from the London School of Economics and Political Science.

Professor Badir has been honoured through receipt of the Alberta Home Economics Association Fellow Award for Service to Home Economics (1986); an Honorary Life membership of the Vanier Institute of the Family (1986); and, the YWCA Tribute to Women Award (1990).

The Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of the honorary degree to Professor Doris Badir:

Catharine Maria Sedgewick. The Linwoods; or "Sixty Years Since" in America. New York, Harper, 1835. Two volumes.

This is the first edition of a rare novel by an author referred to by Edgar Allan Poe as "the first" of American women writers. Sedgewick wrote several children's novels, as well as tales in support of abolition and women's education. This novel, one of her best, is a vivid picture of a family in New York during the last years of the American Revolution. Focusing on two sisters growing up, it deals with social matters rather than warfare.

The volume contains a signed autograph letter from the author.

Leslie Green joined the University of Alberta in 1965 as a Professor of Political Science. He was named University Professor in 1969 and Honorary Professor of the Faculty of Law in 1982. Professor Green distinguished himself as a major international authority in his field and as one of the University's most prolific scholars, publishing extensively and participating as speaker, panellist, and conferee at gatherings around the world.

Considered by the international legal community as a leading authority in the field of International Law, Professor Green is also an expert on various areas such as terrorism, law of war, and humanitarian law. He has served as advisor to various governments and is a frequent consultant to all elements of the media to interpret and express his views on the legal ramifications of many complex political, social, and moral events of the day.

In 1976 Professor Green received the honorary Doctor of Laws degree from the University of London for his contribution to international law and sociology of law.

The Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of the honorary degree to Dr Leslie Green:

The Symposium of Plato. Translated by Tom Griffith, engraved by Peter Forster. Libanus Press, Marlborough, Wiltshire, England, 1986. Of 355 copies this is copy N of 15 special unbound copies lettered A-O, which includes a separate volume of essays about the making of this edition, All Greek to Me.

This is a seminal work of Greek philosophy in which Socrates and his friends penetratingly explore the nature of love in a shrewd, sometimes lyrical dialogue. This important modern translation restores the balance between strict, literal accuracy and engaging readability. The volume is in a unique binding by Quebec artist Louise Genest-Cote made of leather, Japanese papers and sculptured boards.

The list of candidates for degrees, diplomas, and certificates appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically, beginning with those graduates receiving their degrees "with distinction" or "with first class honors." The winner of the most prestigious award in each Faculty, if attending, is presented first.

Roger Hurtubise was born in St Paul, Alberta and educated in a one-room school. When buses were available he attended school in St Paul and College Saint-Jean (now Faculté Saint-Jean) in Edmonton. After completing an undergraduate degree at the University of Ottawa, Mr Hurtubise received theological training in Manitoba and Ottawa and joined the Oblate Order. In 1969 he began service in a small rural hospital in the Andean Mountains. Since then, Mr Hurtubise has dedicated his life to improving the quality of life of the landless peasants and poverty-stricken people of Latin America.

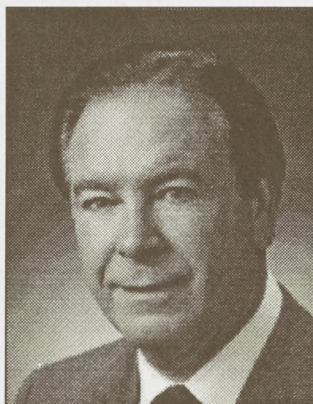

For over 20 years, Roger Hurtubise has given selflessly to various projects in Bolivia and Honduras where he is now Director of AMEH (Episcopal World Help for Hunger). He has organized workers' cooperatives, health services, schools, and development projects, often without formal support, necessitating that he also raise funds and recruit assistance.

Roger Hurtubise has joined the ranks of many other Canadians who reach out to the Third World. He is one of Canada's great ambassadors abroad, and at home, has had great success in drawing young Canadians to the needs of the Third World and lobbying governments for support of International Aid initiatives.

The Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of the honorary degree to Roger Hurtubise:

Francisco de Canto. Arte, y Vocabulario en la lengua general del Perullamada Quichua, y en la lengua Espanola... Los Reyes (ie. Lima), Francisco de Canto, 1614.

This volume is an important Indian language work from the first (and at the time, only) press in South America. Canto, the owner and operator of this press, was only the second printer in Peru. This extremely rare volume begins with a grammar of the Quecha language, followed by a Quecha-Spanish and Spanish dictionary, and is a significant addition to our Javitch Collection of North and South American aboriginal materials.

Stanley Milner has been an outstanding Albertan and Edmontonian for over 30 years as a business leader, an entrepreneur, a community supporter, and a volunteer leader. He is a recognized independent oil and gas entrepreneur, having build two organizations from a very small base: Chieftain Development in 1964, and Chieftain International in 1988.

Mr Milner has been an outstanding volunteer in many community and professional activities. He has been a director of the Edmonton Eskimo Football Club; the Edmonton Community Foundation; the Western Heritage Centre; and, the Conference Board, New York. He served the University of Alberta as Chair of the Board of Governors from 1990-93, and is currently a director of Alberta Energy, Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, and Canadian Pacific.

An alumnus of the University, Stanley Milner has been recognized through several awards and honours. He is the recipient of the Gold Award, Wall Street Transcript 1983 (Top CEO in the Canadian Oil Industry); University of Alberta Canadian Business Leader Award (1987); the Junior Achievement of Northern Alberta Business Hall of Fame (1987); and, the Commemorative Medal for the 125th Anniversary of the Confederation of Canada (1993).

The Senate is donating the following volume to the Bruce Peel Special Collections Library to commemorate the awarding of the honorary degree to Stanley Milner:

The Banff Windermere Highway; What to Do at Lake Louise; Resorts in the Rockies; Jasper Park Lodge; Jasper Trails. Five pamphlets published by the Canadian Pacific Railway or Department of the Interior, 1923 - 1931.

These charmingly designed pamphlets promoting tourism in the Rockies are quite useful to students and scholars of the development of Alberta and the history of the CPR. The Banff Windermere Highway, a considerable achievement, opened in 1923 and that pamphlet celebrates the heroic task and the spectacular scenery. Although modest, such historical pamphlets are increasingly uncommon, and they form a significant part of our extensive Canadiana holdings.

The list of candidates for degrees, diplomas, and certificates appearing herein is subject to such corrections, with respect to additions, deletions, and changes, as may be necessary. The information as presented is current as of the program printing deadline. Graduates attending the ceremony are presented to the Chancellor alphabetically, beginning with those graduates receiving their degrees "with distinction" or "with first class honors." The winner of the most prestigious award in each Faculty, if attending, is presented first.

This Convocation Program is printed on recycled paper containing at least 50% recycled fiber including 10% post-consumer waste paper.

If you can, please share this program with a companion. Then, if you do not take it home, please leave it (in good repair) on the table outside the doors as you exit the auditorium. This will help us ensure that someone else can use it on another day of Convocation, and subsequently conserve paper.

Thank you for your assistance.
